

Summary: The first week the project was given to me, I focused on creating an idea for this website. I also began to think about how I would have to space out the work load since I decided to work by myself.

Goals: My goal this week was to create an idea for my site. Also, I wanted to begin to think about how I would be able to split up all the different tasks I will need to do in order to make this website.

Problems: No major problems this week, except for that I haven't finalized which idea I am going to use.

Time Log:
Estimated Time to complete project →			200 Hours
Date	Time Spent (in hours)	Description	Author
3/26/17	2	Brainstorming website ideas	Eric Langdon

* Since I am working alone, I am responsible for all the positions for the creation of this website. *